ONE OF THE PERPLEXING TRIALS OF A BACHELOR.—One of the curses of a homeless bachelor's life is the choosing of dishes for breakfast, lunch and supper from a restaurant carte. There is nothing, perhaps, so perplexing as to pick out what you want from a list of array of viands, says the Pittsburgh Dispatch. You run through the tables of soups, fish, game, roast meats and so on with a wavering mind, seemingly unable utterly to come to a decision. Blue points, say you to yourself, are good eating now, but—well, let's see what fish there is. Black bass sounds good, but—well, we've not looked at the soups. On second thoughts we don't want fish—pheasants are in season—half a pheasant broiled is by no means bad, but—we had that for supper last night. How would a veal cutlet aux champignons do? asks the waiter half contemptuously, half pityingly. No, we don't want any bilious dressing and canned mushrooms in our. About this time the waiter begins to dust the table cloth energetically. A signal of distress as sure as you live. Well, we must decide, and we jump at what we have had nine times out of ten before, "a sirloin steak, medium and boiled potatoes." And to such common endings do half the bachelor's table commings come.

TAKE TIME TO REST.—There are many ways to travel, but if you desire to travel for pleasure and rest, let me commend to you a sailing yacht as a pleasant means of locomotion; and if you want to get away from the world's giddy unrest, from cares of business and from all the worries and petty annoyances that make life in the city a daily round of wearying toil, I say to you go and do as we are doing. "Cannot spare the time," you say? Ah, well, then go on, my friend, and worry and toil, and get worn and weary and exhausted, and one day you will "pare the time," as far as this world's work is concerned, you will spare not only time, but eternity, too, and by the time you should have died, if you had lived a natural life, temperate in labor and indulgent in rest, the world will be whirling around as smoothly as if you had never been, and you will, long before, have been in your grave and forgotten. When the Lord made men he did not intend that they should be gray haired, physical wrecks at 40, as so many are. He doubtless intended that they should not only work but rest. —J. Amor Knox.

CHILDREN AS SUICIDES.—Eight years ago an English writer on suicides announced to the startled world that of the 80,000 Europeans who annually took their own lives 2,000 were children. The youngest case then recorded was that of a boy of 9, who drowned himself for grief at the loss of his pet canary. Since 1880 we have beaten the record many times. The number of suicides has increased enormously, and America alone can point to more than one baby of 7 who has wearied of his hardly tested existence. From 12 to 16, however, appears to be the age at which children are most prone to self destruction, and if we examine a few of the instances so persistently brought before the public we shall see but too plainly how links are wrought in the sad continuity of crime. Just as one daring robbery or brutal murder gives birth to a dragon brood of sins, so each miserable piece of childish folly leaves behind it the germ of another tragic development. —Agnes Reppier.

MAKING THE EYES BRIGHT.—It is no use asking me for the secrets of making the eyes bright. I know them, but they are dangerous, and as moderation in the use of any cosmetic is unknown to women who adopt such things, they had better remain secret. The only harmless things for the purpose are the juice of the herb euphrasy or eye-bright dropped in the eye, or a spoonful of roast coffee chewed for the juice alone. This brightens the eyes for an evening, and is useful to keep watchers wide awake nights. But it must not be used often or it affects the heart. Pure blood and thorough circulation, with unobstructed functions, will secure glowing eyes of a dark shade of their natural color, changing gooseberry eyes to luminous dark gray. Walking a mile briskly against the wind is good exercise to darken and brighten the eyes, whose beauty all depend on a right circulation of the blood, which in turn depends on more things than can be mentioned here. —Shirley Dare's Letter.

Syrup of Figs

Is Nature's own true laxative. It is the most easily taken, and the most effective remedy known to cleanse the system when Bileous or Costive; to dispel Headaches, Colds, and Fevers; to Cure Habitual Constipation, Indigestion, Piles, etc. Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Company, San Francisco, Cal. E. S. Leadbeater &amp; Bro., agents Alexandria, Va.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP, for children teething, is the prescription of one of the best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and has been used for forty years with never-failing success by millions of mothers for their children. During the process of teething its value is incalculable. It relieves the child from pain, cures dysentery and diarrhea, griping in the bowels and wind-colic. By giving health to the child it rests the mother. Price 25 cents a bottle.

PEOPLE OF THE TEECH COUNTRY.—There are in some parts of the Teech land settlements where a fascinating and unique people dwell, so closely united, so materially independent of the outside world that they are almost like tribal communities. The climate has done almost its best for these people. They know nothing of books or literature; they never have heard of any of the eulogies and eulogies that percolate brains elsewhere, but they live close to nature. They produce absolutely everything they use or eat. They make pretty pictures in their simple little homes, pictures that appeal to one as a barnyard scene on canvas, or the suggested coziness of a Dutch interior painted by a great master appeals, rather than the representation of a wizen Faust nosing over tomes in his dim laboratory. The great truth of life for these in to live and to love, to dwell in comfort with many children, to fear God and to obey the priest, to die confessed and absolved, to lie shrined in the sweet little church and afterwards to sleep under the purple garb and passion vines in the grass-green cemetery; this is life's truth and mission for these simple folk. This history of such a home, the convincing proof of its existence, is the best immigration document any parish can put forth. We want nothing better, more moral, more progressive than immigrants striving to earn sweet homes; for these will bring with them the manufacturer and the business man, planting industries that shall yield good harvests of work and prosperity. —Catharine Cole.
